

Exmouth Visitor Centre Trust

with

OFFWELL ENVIRONMENT LINK

are inviting you on voyages discovering the wildlife of the Exe Estuary in association with Stuart Line cruises

FRIDAY JANUARY 29th 2010 at 12.00 noon
FRIDAY FEBRUARY 26th 2010 at 10.30 am at

Mamhead Quay, Exmouth

The upper deck provides panoramic views. It is open with an awning in case it rains. Enjoy a relaxed and friendly atmosphere with great onboard ambience.

The lower deck is fully enclosed with huge picture windows and is centrally heated, so no need to worry about getting cold or wet! There is a bar serving tea and coffee, soft and alcoholic drinks and snacks.

After our very successful summer Jurassic Coast cruise we are organising two winter bird-watching cruises on the Estuary.

Each cruise lasts about three hours.

We will sail as far upstream as Topsham then return with a full commentary by Rod Lawrence throughout the trip.

He will talk about the huge numbers and fantastic variety of birds and other wildlife to be found in this extraordinary location

During the return journey there will be the opportunities for questions, discussion and enjoyment of our unique and beautiful river.

*The fare is £9.00, all are welcome and booking will be necessary
