

- An invitation to join our NEW supporters group -

Offwell Woodlanders supports the valuable conservation and education work of the Offwell Woodland & Wildlife Trust, focussing on activities at the Woodland Education Centre at Offwell in East Devon.

Membership is a must for anyone interested in wildlife and habitat conservation in East Devon.

Benefits of membership include:

- We aim to appeal to people of all ages and abilities interested in the Great British countryside, with events focusing at the Centre, such as moth and stargazing evenings, bird ringing activities, wildflower, herb and grass identification events, fungal forays, wildlife photography workshops and competitions, plus social and family activities.
- Seasonal newsletter, in an exciting new format, including interesting local wildlife and countryside articles.
- Occasional lectures.
- Some activities at the Centre and restricted pages on the Trust's website will be for members only.
- Subscription from only £10 per annum per household. Any donation added would be much appreciated and used to support the work of the Trust.

Offwell Woodlanders launched on 1st January 2011. If you would like to subscribe to this new service, please complete the membership form below and overleaf.

We encourage all our tax paying members to complete a Gift Aid declaration. Gift Aid increases the value of your subscriptions and donations and enables us to undertake more valuable conservation and education work at the Woodland Education Centre. A separate GiftAid form accompanies this membership application.

About The Woodland Education Centre

Situated in a beautiful wooded valley in East Devon, the Centre is managed by the Offwell Woodland & Wildlife Trust. The 50-acre site has seven miles of walks open to the public, and provides a number of important habitats for vulnerable British wildlife; for example, dormice, water voles, birds such as the kingfisher, amphibians, butterflies and dragonflies. A number of wetland habitats have been restored, including a lake, several ponds, streams and a leat. There is also an area of lowland heath, open meadowland as well as a wide range of deciduous and coniferous woodland. The Trust encourages the Offwell Woodlanders to come and see the Centre and its remarkable wildlife for themselves, as well as enjoying organised activities. Interested members may also volunteer to help with important conservation work, fundraising, and events. The Centre provides an ideal location for environmental education to all ages and abilities, via guided and unguided visits. Information about the Centre is made available to a wider audience via the Trust's extensive, world-renowned website. The Trust is a registered charity and receives no regular funding from authorities, relying on grants, donations and fundraising initiatives to finance its work. Joining Offwell Woodlanders is a practical way in which the community can support the Trust's activities.

Water voles have recently been re-introduced to suitable wetland habitat at the Woodland Education Centre.
